Below left is Bernwode Nirvana who's father, Nevado, has twice been a member of Germany's FEI European Pony Event Team whilst siring many successful dressage and jumping ponies.

Bernwode Nirvana's dam, Sina, is by the remarkably athletic German pony sire, Fritzchen (shown below, middle) who, despite his height of only 138 cms successfully competed at Advanced Medium level dressage against large warmblood horses. Fritzchen also achieved a high score for his jumping ability at stallion grading.

It is hoped that Blaze will also jump and he is shown here, below right, as a two year old. Blaze's dam, Sharron, was not broken until 7 years. At the age of 10, she reached JC level BSJA and was Graded into the Head Stud Book of the SPSS before becoming a broodmare.

Sharron (left) is shown here loose jumping at fourteen years old. She was Graded with the SPSS gaining a score of 80.4%.
